

TIP PRESENTATION AND ORAL DEFENSE RUBRIC

Student Name: _____

Aspect	Good presentation: (3 points)	Fair presentation: (2 points)	Poor presentation: (1-0 points)	Score
Introduction	contains a thorough, complete and well-organized overview statement.	contains a thorough but somewhat disorganized overview statement.	provides no overview statement or statement is so short as to be useless
Completeness	addresses all included theories very well during presentation	addresses most of the theories fairly well during presentation.	addresses few of the theories or does so poorly in presentation.
Implementation	addresses well how learning theories will be used to deal effectively with preconceptions, organization of knowledge, and metacognition.	address minimally or inconsistently how learning theories will be used to deal effectively with preconceptions, organization of knowledge, and metacognition.	fails to address or addresses poorly how learning theories will be used to deal effectively with preconceptions, organization of knowledge, and metacognition.
Classroom Atmosphere	addresses in detail how the 4 centers* of classroom will be achieved using learning theories.	address minimally or inconsistently how the 4 centers* of classroom will be achieved using learning theories.	fails to address or addresses poorly how the 4 centers* of classroom will be achieved using learning theories.
Organization	presentation is well organized, moving from general topics to specific details; provides a good explanation of the work.	presentation is somewhat disorganized and provides too much detail without giving a good explanation of the work.	presentation is disorganized and deals completely with details without providing a broad explanation of the work.
Speaking Skills	uses presentation resources as a guide, gives detailed explanations, is easily understandable	relies heavily on presentation to make report; only somewhat comfortable with the topic.	essentially reads the material from a presentation to make the report; clearly uncomfortable with the topic.
Accuracy	presents all information in an accurate manner	presents some information that clearly is wrong.	clearly does not have a grasp of the subject matter.
Examples	provides many good examples of how theories can be put into practice.	provides a very limited number of examples of how theory can be put into practice.	does not provide useful examples of how theory can be put into practice.
Questions and Answers	answers questions clearly and accurately.	answers only some of the questions well.	answers none of the answer questions well.
Percentage: _____				TOTAL POINTS: 27

Comments: